THE French Minister has, it would seem, been less successful in the attempt to open treaty relations with Corea than were the United States and British representatives. The reason ascribed for his want of success is stated by the Tientsin correspondent of one of our Shanghai contemporaries to be that the Corean Government will not hear of the introduction into the treaty of the clause giving missionaries the right to reside, fresh arrivals will stop in August, and after buy ground and build houses, &c. The that, if the drain castward continues, we shall French thought, and not unnaturally, that the clause as it stands in their treaty with China would also be admitted without question by the Coreans. If this statement of the Mercury correspondent be correct, proves one of two facts, either of which is significant. The Chinese Government, which has practically been the means of opening Coron and is believed to have suggested certain stipulations of the treaty, is known to be strongly inimical to missionaries, and would probably prefer their exclusion that of opium, the shricks of the philanthropists notwithstanding. We de not say the Chinese mandarins have openly advised-thenon-recognition of missionaries in Corea, but | what you will, no foreigner can take advantage | mity had the Consul's indiscretion been everhad done so. Could the Corean Govern- ring you can't trade. This commutation system, ment get a treaty negotiated in which the like all rings and systems, has built up a monemissionaries were ignored, it is not unas a precedent, and refuse to admit in a new treaty any reference to the missionaries. On the other hand, the Corean Government is known to entertain a strong prejudice against missionaries, and French in particular, as the latter have succeeded, in spite of prohibitions and the jealous watchfulness of the officials, in entering the country and spreading a knowledge of the tenets of Roman Catholicism. To gratify the aversion they have conceived to the Christian religion, and to prevent its farther spread, the Corean Government may have resolved notto give treaty recognition of the missions, and prevent the missionaries from settling in the interior of the country, or from acquiring rights which might one day be enforced by gunboats. We are disposed to think, however, that the omission of the missionary clause, which would seem at least to have been accomplished in the American Treaty, and probably in the British, was due to the clever scheming of the Peking Authorities, who are auxious to pave the way for the expulsion of all foreigners from China.

She sacres followed. The situation, owing to this act of treachery, has altered considerably, and a rather difficult task awaits Government, England. The country will now have to be occupied, and for this purpose, no doubt, a contingent of troops will be despatched from India. It is much to be deplored that the foreigners in Alexandria did not all leave the city before the bombardment. Thousands of Europeans left some time ago, but others lingered on, deceived by the assurances of AEABI BEY, and possibly because they did not like to leave their property to take care of itself. The massacres and the treachery shown by the miscreant Anabr go to show that the Egyptians are not to be trusted, and recent events will be the means of demonstrating to Europe the necessity for the establishment of foreign control over Egypt

AFPAIRS IN BUSHIA LONDON. June 13th. The retirement of General Ignation from the Ministry of the Interior of Russia caused much satisfaction in Berlin and Vienna, and Russian funds rose on the London stock exchange. The appointment of Count Tolstoi is not, however, considered any special concession to the European powers, as he represents the orthodox Russians, although he has not General Ignatioff's extreme sutipathy to Germans. Ignatioff goes abroad, where he remains some time.

BERLIN. June 14th. A Liberal journal speaking of the resignation of Ignatieff, says there will be a feeling of relief that one of the most dangerous and unprincipled intriguers against the paice of Europe has been put aside. NEW YORK, June 14th. The Herald's St. Petersburg special says: General Ignatieff's downfall must be attributed to the four-fold coalition of the Germans, the Jews, Court party, and the Holy Synod, represented in the councils of the Emperor by M. Pobedonstaeff. Germany has never forgiven General Ignation for his supposed connivance with General Skobeleff. All the Imperial family's infinence has been brought to bear against bim. The Jawa meanwhile combatted him by depreciating the Bussian funds. The Court detested him because he held it in obsek, and the Haly Synod grudge for his refusal to second the Subbatarian movement in Russia. It is thought that Count Toisti. Ignatieff's successor, will be a mere man of straw. The real governors of the country will be Count Woronzoff, Dashnoff, Minister of the Court, M. Pobedonostseff, President of the Holy Synod, and M. Katkoff, Director of the Moscow Gazotte, who, it is safe to assume, will be powerful at the Ministry of the Interior. Ignatioff's overthrow does not materially improve the political situation. His partisans will swell the number of malcontents in Russia, while Count Toisti will certainly not diminish them. The new Minister is the incarnation of everything despotie and retrograde. He is disliked in St. Petersburg, and abborred in the provinces. His appointment, therefore cannot but deal another blow at popularity of the Russian Go-every one, but more especially General Ignation himself, who at noon, Sunday, was ignorant that the decree and name of his successor would an pear the next day. The general opinion to-day s, that the Jews will gain nothing by the change, but must quit the country. An energetic Minister is replaced by one who is equally detested, and one who when he left office two yeers ago had not fifteen partisans in the Empire.
